

Tale of 4 gamers, Warhammer Fantasy Army Collecting Challenge Rules

All challenges score 1 point unless specified.

All end of month deadlines will be the final Friday of the month and participants will be expected to bring models to the club to show their efforts and prove they have completed the month's challenges.

You will score one point if you update your blog on a weekly basis for the whole of a month. This means making a minimum of 1 post during each week of the month. The section for each month will specify the weeks and the deadline for each week will be the Friday night club meeting.

In the final month of the challenge we will run a poll on the forum as to which blog other club members have enjoyed the most. This player will score a bonus point.

There will be a chance to win a final point at the painting contest in January 2012. Other club members will vote for their favourite army and the winner of this will score a bonus point.

The overall winner will also be presented the trophy at this event.

In the event of requiring an impartial ruling or judge's opinion, David will act in this capacity

Bonus Challenges (you can only score 1 point per month from these so spread them out)

Models/units used for bonus challenges can NOT be used to fulfil monthly challenges unless specified below.

- Add a completed (assembled, painted, based) Lord/Hero choice to your army
- Add a completed (assembled, painted, based) Spellcaster/Runesmith to your army
- Add a completed (assembled, painted, based) Centrepiece model to your army
- Add a completed (assembled, painted, based) Converted model to your army
- Add a completed (assembled, painted, based) unit to your army that includes 5 or more conversions
- Make (assembled, painted, based) a piece of scenery themed to match your army
- Add a completed (assembled, painted, based) mini diorama to a unit in your army
- Win a game, minimum 1000 points (this can be a game played for the monthly challenge)

Terms such as centrepiece will be defined by a vote from the remaining players in the challenge. 2 out of these 3 must agree the model is suitably impressive

There may be bonus challenges added during the running of the challenge.....
